“I have never regretted anything so much as when I moved from Copenhagen. I missed the wine dealer from underneath the Knippelsbro bridge where one always, regardless of the time, in the middle of lunch being waved into the kitchen and tasting cloudy wines that have not yet made it to the shelf. I missed the remarkable kiosk on Sønder Boulevard that sells ciggies, milk, newspapers – and obscure sour ales.

And then I fantasised about the Noma chefs’ new restaurant, of the butcher Hanne who every day prepares cold cuts from scratch and piles open sandwiches onto trays in the window, and the new breed of smørrebrød bars that serve lambic beer and oxidised Sebastian Riffault wines with the hønsesalaten (chicken salad). It was not long before I moved back.

This is a guide to my favourite restaurants, to fantastic natural wines, to the establishments with the finest raw produce of the most devoted hippie farmers, from the best soil ranges in Sjælland. From the bars with the most interesting crafted beers to the roughest jukebox dives in which the ventilation is so bad that you can passive-smoke tobacco fumes breathed out by the Vesterbro poet Dan Turell in the 1970s – and where someone who get hungry at half-past one at night gets a boiled egg and a dab of mustard on a napkin.”
