

HOW SMART IS YOUR DOG?

PRACTICAL EXERCISES TO DO AT HOME

Contents

- Foreword
- Intelligence tests for dogs?
- Equipment for the amateur ethologist
- Exercises
 - How well does your dog interpret your commands?
 - What is your dog telling you?
 - An irresolvable problem
 - How large is your dog's vocabulary?
 - Do dogs understand sentences?
 - How attached is your dog to you?
 - Does your dog know what you know?
 - Can dogs categorise things?
 - Can dogs count?
 - Does your dog understand physics?
- Fair treatment
 - How empathetic is your dog?
 - Do dogs feel ashamed?
 - Happy or scared – do dogs understand the difference?
- Is your dog right or left pawed?
- Can dogs imitate?
- From home experimentation to research
- References

Hur smart är din hund?

Praktiska övningar att göra hemma

Per Jensen

170x220, 192p

What goes on inside your dog's head exactly? Can he understand what you say, demonstrate empathy or a sense of justice? The special intelligence of dogs is all about communicating with us humans and in recent years, ethologists (behavioural scientists) have mapped out the inner lives of dogs by means of various scientific investigations. In How smart is your dog? Per Jensen has adapted a number of these experiments into simple tests you can do at home, creating a manual for the amateur ethologist. The various tests can be easily expanded into more extensive experiments, and best of all, you and your dog will have fun together and get to know each other better!

About the author

Per Jensen is Professor of Ethology at Linköping University, his research and teaching focusing on the behaviour of dogs and other animals. A popular lecturer with dog owners all over Scandinavia, Per has also conceived and teaches distance courses in dog behavioural biology. He often features as an expert in magazines, radio and TV programmes and has previously published Hur mår maten? (How's your food?) (2012) and Hunden som skäms (The Ashamed Dog) (2014).

BENNET AGENCY

SÖDER MÄLARSTRAND 21
118 20 STOCKHOLM
SWEDEN

MOBILE: +46 704 67 42 70
WWW.BENNETAGENCY.COM

