

NEW YORK FOR FOODIES

New York and the ten million people who live here.

Contents

The way to eat the world

Italian

Bagels & delis

Chinatown

North Africa

Queens

Sunset Park

Seafood & oysters

Japanese

Koreatown

Hamburgers

West Indian

Natural wines & bistros

Mexican

Desserts

Bars

New York för foodisar

Martin Gelin

160x220, 176p

What is so unique about New York is the range of food available from all over the world. New York offers more variety, and at a higher level, than any other metropolis.

There is no one cuisine or single dish that can be said to define the city, because here everyone is an immigrant. The best restaurants always have an eye for another place or country, with much devotion and a little bit of melancholy, which has been left behind.

New York for foodies is a personal guide to the very best food in New York, based on 17 years of diligent research. Here we are tipped off on where to find the best dim sum in Chinatown, Sunset Park's most outstanding taquerias and Harlem's crispiest fried chicken. This is the book for you, if you find yourself daydreaming of eating oysters at the bar in Le Bernardin, but may be just as likely to visit the finest Egyptian restaurant in Queens, to order grilled fish.

We take the tube to Flushing's best food court for North Korean barbecue and Sichuan peppered hot pots, visit Brooklyn's best pizzeria and discover Washington Height's juiciest Cubano sandwich.

We get tips on where to eat Korean barbecue while watching the sun go down on the Chrysler building, the seafood bars in which to find the perfect lobster roll, and the finest cooling bowl of chilled borscht in Little Odessa.

On the way we hope this book deepens and provides a more nuanced image of

About the author

Martin Gelin is a distinguished writer and journalist who has been working in the USA since 2001. He is the correspondent for Dagens Nyheter in New York and has covered American politics for among others SVT, SR, BBC and CNN. In 2014 his book with Emil Arvidson 'Den amerikanska maten' was published.

BENNET AGENCY

HEDINGSGATAN 13
115 33 STOCKHOLM
SWEDEN

MOBILE: +46 704 67 42 70
WWW.BENNETAGENCY.COM

